1st It is excellent in giving the Teeth a beautiful white polish and preventing their decay.

2 It is sure to cause and preserve a sweet breath and pleasant taste to the mouth

3 It is also an infallible cure for the Tartar which collects on teeth wholly removing it and at the same time hardens the gums and causes them to be reinstated in their proper place

The Election. The Kennebec Journal in announcing the probable result of the election in this State, remarks: "The disciplined legions of the National Administration have been successful in deceiving the people of the State; and in retaining the men here of the Jackson party in their ranks. It will [illegible] that the Whig vote in this State is much larger than ever it was [illegible] but on the other hand, the Tories have brought to the polls a vast number who did not vote last year. This year every man of them has been brought to the polls, and notwithstanding a very respectable number of the most intelligent of them have come over to the Whig ranks, this accession has been more than counterbalanced by the almost superhuman efforts of the government officers. They have now done their best, and more than they can ever do again. If half as many leave their party in the next twelve months as have in twelve months past it will place us permanently in a majority. The Whigs of this State will be ashamed of the result, but not discouraged. They will be ashamed to have the news go abroad that Maine is the only State in the Union where the power of government patronage has been able to resist the virtue and energy of the people, but instead of being discouraged from further effort they will only redouble their exertions, since it is now apparent that the actual full strength of the Whig party in the State is more nearly equal to that of the Tories than it ever was before.

Cumberland Senators. The Advertiser gives the votes for Senators in Cumberland County. The vote stands thus, Neal 6384, Parsons 6417, Lofkin 6409, Perley 6417. Littlefield 6477, Holden 6[illegible], Gross 6515, Humphrey 6516, scattering 185. The probability is that Littlefield is defeated, if not the whole Loco foco ticket.

Keep the Flag flying. Let the Whigs take courage. They have fought a glorious fight. The Whig vote already exceeds in amount the expectation of the Whigs previous to the election, and when the returns are all in, it will be found that they have thrown about FORTY TWO THOUSAND, a [illegible], we verily believe. [Correspondence of the Whig & Courier.]

Up Salt River, Sept. 11.

Mr. Printer, I've got my harvest all in now, so I thought I'd jest write and let you know where to send my paper, for I've moved since I wrote you last. I won't say I did it willingly, for I use to live here afore, and I thought if ever I got away I'd never come to this place again, and I try'd all I could to keep away, but 'twas no use. The way I got here is a caution, and 'twas a mystery too, but I've found out all about it now, and so I'll tell you. After town meeting I went home and took care of my cattle, fed my hogs, heard my young ones say their prayers, and then went to bed, and when I awoke this morning I found myself, and thousands of my neighbors completely rowed up. If I wan't astonished, Mr. Printer, there's no snakes! So I work'd round and enquired how it happen'd and they told me that Government wanted the old settlers on this river cleared out, for they did'nt earn their living, and it cost a great deal to support them here, and they wanted some good men to take their place, and so they made a contract with John Hill to row 'em up the [illegible], and he sent a set of his rowdies here who were used to such business, and they row'd up free of expense to us, but I'm told it cost Government ten times as much as it did to row up the Cherokees. We're not all here yet, but shall be before spring, for some prefer coming up on the ice, as they are apt to be sea sick on the worter. Among those who are coming up this winter are Gov. Kent, the Land Agent, Attorney General, County Attorney, Clerk of the Courts, and a host of others who have only staid to settle up their business, but their expenses are all paid. It costs them nothing—ain't government good to take such care of the dear people? I can't write any more now, for I must be looking after my affairs. We're making preparations to build a raft, and are all coming back next summer, if we have a good freshet. I shall try and write again soon, and tell you something about this place. Give my love to Squire Davis, and tell him my folks are well. Do tell me how Squire Prescott does. I'm told he's on the mending hand, and will probably get well. I shall send you the returns of votes soon, so that you may know who will be Governor.

Yours till death,

PETER WIGGINS.

P. S. You need not send my papers by Squire Fuller, cause he don't drive on this route now.

Now the election has passed, we must throw aside politics in a measure, and attend to the wishes of our fair readers. They are pleased with a story now and then, and we intend they shall be gratified. Here's something for housewives, and for those who expect to be housewives.

FITS OF THRIFT.

Nothing is more common in the middle ranks of life than to find housewives taking what may be called fits of thrift. Though sensible women in their way, excellent advisers and charming gossips, and though by no means spenders on a great scale, they have no enduring principles of economy, but are frugal by fits and starts. They take qualms of thriftiness now and then: sometimes from reading a string of plausible receipts for cooking on a cheap scale, or from being struck with the excellent arrangements in the household of a friend, who tells her that by managing in such and such a manner, salting all her own beef, and making all her own preserves, she has, one way and another, saved a good deal of money, which is really a thing of some consequence in these bad times, when so little is coming in. This chronic frugality is common to single ladies, under as well above one-and-twenty, and to married ladies with large families. The fits have different tendencies, although the prevailing symptoms are the same. Occasionally, the fever seizes one single young lady in a family of sisters; and I have seen that it comes on most commonly in the spring. In such cases the disease perhaps takes the direction of butter and eggs. Some day about the month of April or May, and when breakfast is on the table, the young lady begins to make observations on the exceeding rancidity of the butter. I declare for my part, says she, we have been poisoned for the last six months with that stuff that we get from the woman who keeps the little shop in the area on the opposite side of the street. You know it was only out of pity to her when her husband was burnt to death at the distillery, that we said we would take some small things from her; but you see she does not keep wholesome articles, and really in my opinion, it is high time we were looking about for something we can trust to. With this sort of discourse the young notable opens the plan of her campaign. She says she is resolved to rise every morning at seven, and go with a basket herself to the market. The mornings she says are now greatly lengthened out, and besides saving a penny a pound on the butter, and getting a better article, she is confident the walk will prove of great benefit to her health. It may always be observed that the husband, father, or elder brother of the notable never makes any objections when such schemes of saving are propounded. They know intuitively that the whole is a delusion, which will work itself off in a week or two; that the same disease has visited the family once every year about the same period ever since they can recollect, and that it will now as formerly, only furnish a little harmless temporary excitement in the house. Armed with a negative approval from these relations, together with a five dollar bill in her pocket, the young notable starts next Saturday morning between seven and eight o'clock, and after taking a half an hour to array herself in an unusual style, studiously [illegible] for the occasion; a shabbyish shawl, and a pair of shoes that she puts only on "bad days," also a straw bonnet faded both in the material and the ribbon, she sallies forth with her basket to the market. With what an air of knowingness she goes from cart to cart, examining and tasting and smelling their contents! How she tries to elicit by [illegible] questioning the man in the sky-blue coat, or the blue sky girl in the divinity headgear, sitting amidst their savory boxes with [illegible], every particular in the history of the butter; where and when it was made, and why it happened to be up this morning, and so forth. How she wanders about the egg women, holding up the eggs between her and the [illegible], and what their probable age might be! What a life-trotting up and down the market for three quarters of an hour, and beating down the prices in a most exemplary manner, she at last accomplishes her purchases, and brings home a cargo of native produce.

When you come down to breakfast, you will be at once reminded of what has been going on by the air of superiority and triumph assumed by Miss Notable. She thinks that by rising an hour sooner than any body else, and saving as she thinks, the sum of two-pence, she has purchased the character of a thrifty personage, and, consequently, is entitled to look down upon the whole house. There is no end to her account of how she managed to find out the best butter in the cart, and how she higgled the man out of a halfpenny in the pound. When she places a slice of this extraordinary butter before you, she takes care to show you how fresh the color is, and waits with impatience to hear your expected, and not-to-be dispensed with, praise of its taste.

The butter she has bought is, in fact, her pet for the whole week. She considers it her butter; and if any visiters slight it, by not paying it the necessary compliments, he is, of course, not indebted to her for any further invitation to the house.

A fit of thrift of this nature lasts, generally, three or four weeks, seldom more. I have seen it continue a fortnight in tolerable strength; it then declines, and wears off towards the fourth Saturday. The decline of this household disease is as amusing as its ways in its increase. The young lady begins to find, that, so far from improving her health or strength by such morning exercise, she only "makes herself out," and is unfit to do any-thing else the whole day. And then it is after all, only to save a few halfpence. She also finds that her purchases do not always turn out well, and that she cannot coax her father, and the rest of them, to be perpetual admirers of the butter and eggs. As a get off, she commences a eulogy on her butter, which, she says, is sold by a [illegible] in Rose street, a person who was once a farmer, but was reduced, by misfortune, to open a small shop, and sell dairy produce. This man, she says, is experienced in butter, and imports every week, as much as will serve a dozen families. She has made interest with him, through the servant, to be counted one of his regular customers, and he will supply the family at all times, exactly at the market price, not a farthing more. This new plan helps greatly as a solace to the conscience, abandoning her morning airings with her basket and dishabille; and so she gradually subsides into the ordinary nature of domestic arrangements.

The married notable is subject to fits of thrift in a greater or less degree about the months of October and November. Sunday, at dinner, when there happens to be rather a poorish leg of lamb on the table, and not much else, she opens her attack by saying, in a peevishly authoritative manner, that really the family has been long enough on fresh meat; that, for her part, the lamb that they have had so often does not agree with her, and that she would rather prefer a good salt herring. "Mrs. Lockheart has just been telling me that the doctor has ordered them to eat twice or thrice a week, a piece of salt meat—that is to say, a piece of beef newly powdered, just the fresh taken off it, and hardly having the appearance of the saltpetre at the bone; and I do think that we cannot do better than just follow such a sensible man's advice, and get two or three pieces next Wednesday, for salting. You know it will be a great saving of money." The drift of all this is, that the husband shall forthwith exhibit on the table a few dollars, in notes, because he knows that these handy pieces of paper are sometimes not very easily got, he, perhaps, tries to throw an obstacle or two in the way of the salting project, and, for instance, mentions that his wife has no convenience for curing beef.

"You observe," says he, "it requires a tub; and, besides, there is a great knack in curing the beef thoroughly; and, if you do not take care, you will spoil the whole." As a matter of course, these, or similar observations, cannot hold good in the face of a wife, under a fit of thrift. All you can say is borne down, and the money is at length consigned with a groan, to the steel purse of the good lady, who next day (for she is in fidgets till her purpose is executed) sets out in her muff and shawl (the first time for the season,) on an expedition—first, to lay in her beef, and then to buy a commodious salting can. Well, the can, that darling object of a notable's ambition, is purchased. The beef is salted, and the good man and his family are shortly put on salt-meat, whether they like such fare, or otherwise. The thrifty lady all this time, takes care, on every occasion, to show off her beef as being well worthy of being tasted by visiters; and the short and long of it is, that the said beef is eaten up in half the time it is expected to last; fresh meat begins to show itself more frequently at your table, and the pet is put aside till another opportunity occurs of playing it off.

These are only ordinary instances of fits of thrift; but there are hundreds of the same description which I could mention. Sometimes the fit takes the direction of a new gown for going out with on bad days, to save others of a better sort; at another time it is "a loose gown" as "really my best black silk one is absolutely getting wasted with having to go so often into the kitchen." Occasionally it is the having of two maid servants "so that the washing may be no longer given out." At another time it is the buying of a crum cloth to save the carpet, or the purchasing of old china or crockery at auctions. I have seen all the ladies in the house manifest their phrensy, by working their own lace, or painting pictures which had to be hung in dear gilded frames. Again, I have noticed it in great vigor in a family in town, resolving to have a garden, so as to grow their own vegetables. It comes on very frequently in a disease to dye old ribbons, or feathers, or dress shawls, in which case the lady who is affected sets out on a voyage of discovery through all the obscure streets and alleys about the town, seeking for some old man whom they heard of as being the "best" at these processes of innovation. It may be remarked, that the fit visits the nation, like an epidemic, towards the end of July. Almost every house in the kingdom is then thrown into an uproar by the ladies, young and old, confederating to manufacture gooseberry jam or currant jelly. Such a requisition is there in all quarters for "half purses," and such a deal of money is spent in this popular confectionary! At the approach, and during the continuance of the epidemic, the husbands, very wisely, make no remonstrance, well knowing that such would be utterly thrown away. "You know, my dear," would say the thrifty spouse, "we shall require two dozen pints this season, for nothing is more useful in a house, in case of colds; and you will remember how much good a spoonful or two did little George last February, when we thought he was going to take the fever (indeed the doctor said it had been the very saving of his life!) Nothing, of course, can withstand an appeal to such authority; the money is disbursed for the purchase of the fruit and other materials, although the good man never can exactly see how, nine pounds worth of jelly should be [illegible] in saving, for the [illegible].

Sometimes the family is as fortunate as to get an oven, and a particular economical fit [illegible] dertakes to bake what is called family bread. A great saving is expected from this source; but it so turns out that as much of the article is given away to friends, as a kind of curiosity, or to impress them with a sense of the economy practised in the house, that a great deal more is lost than gained by the novelty. At best it always turns out, as in the case of Vicar of Wakefield and his thrice notable spouse, that these chronic economists are not observed to make good house-wives.

Casimir Perier, on being called an aristocrat, and one of the privileged classes, replied, "My only aristocracy is the superiority which industry, frugality, perseverance, and intelligence will always secure to every man in a free state of society. I belong only to those privileged classes in which you may all belong. In your turn. They are not privileges created for us, but by us. Our wealth is our own; we have made it. Our ease is our own; we have gained it by the sweat of our brows, or by the labour of our minds. Our position in society is not conferred upon us, but purchased by ourselves with our own intellect, application, [illegible] patience and industry. If you remain inferior to us, it is because you have not the intellect or the industry, the zeal or the sobriety, the patience or the application necessary to your advancement. This is not our fault, but your own. You wish to become rich; as some men do to become wise, but there is no royal road to wealth any more than there is to Knowledge. You sigh for the ease and repose of wealth, but you are not willing to do that which is necessary to procure them. The husbandman who will not till his ground shall reap nothing but thistles and briers. You thing the commodities in human society are useless and misdirected if you do not become wealthy and powerful by the changes; but what right have you to expect, you idlers and drones in the hive, you shall always be fed on the honey and the sweets of life? What right have you, who do nothing for yourselves, your families, your communes, your arrondissements, departments, your country, or your kind, to imagine that you will be selected by them for their favor, their confidence, and their rewards? I am not an aristocrat as that word of the term in which it may be applied in absolute government or under imperial rule; but if, by an aristocrat, you mean a man who has earned his promotion by his labour, his honors by his toils, and his wealth by his industry—oh, then, indeed, I am an aristocrat—and please God I may always remain so. The distinctions in human society displease you, because you have not the talent or the industry to amend your own position. You are too idle to labour, and too proud to beg, but I will endeavor to take care that you shall not rob me. I throw back, then, with indignation and resentment, the charge which is made—I belong to the middling classes of society. I have been selected by my fellow-citizens, and by my king, as one of their representatives and, by the blessing of God, I will represent them. Blackwood.

Glorious uncertainty of the law. The New York Commercial says:—

By the ship Charlemagne on the 20th of August ultimo our informant received two cases of Merino shawls, which were passed through the custom house free of duty. Three days afterwards, viz. on the 23d of August, the same merchant received by the Ville de Lyons two additional cases of the same goods, from the same house, upon which a duty of fifty per cent. was exacted at the custom house. On the 4th of September instant, two cases more of exactly the same description of goods were received by the same merchant, from the same house, by the Francois 1st, one case of which was passed through the custom house duty free, and on the other a duty of twenty per cent was exacted!

Now we would soberly ask, how are the merchants to transact the business under such an administration of the revenue laws? And is it all surprising, that our importers become irritated under such a state of things?

Frost. There was a severe frost at Cleaveland, Ohio, on Friday night, of last week, which cut off the corn, vines, potatoe tops, and all the tender vegetables. The dew-drops standing upon the leaves of the cabages were frozen solid.

Mr. Polk.—The Nashville Whig states that Mr. Polk, speaker of the House of Representatives, has announced himself a candidate for Governor of Tennessee. Gen. Corroll resigned in favor of Mr. Polk on account of ill health.

The Whigs of Philadelphia have nominated John Sergeant and George W. Toland, the present members, for re election to Congress.

There were 206 deaths in New York City last week—24 men, 27 women, 65 boys, 90 girls.

A She Devil. At the Cork Criminal Court a woman was convicted on the capital charge of selling a living child to a surgeon for dissection. The proposed subject was a fine boy, about nine years old, and was believed to be her nephew. She offered the surgeon another at the same price. We need scarcely add that the surgeon only dealt with her to convict her of the crime.

Wisdom of Fashion. The N. O. American says when the thermometer is at 95 our gentleman play busily at ten pins; when at 40, at chess, or dominoes; when the glass is at it highest, the ladies, God bless them, waltz at night, and day too sometimes; when frost appear they dress low in the neck, and thin at the feet. Who now will dare to direct the wisdom of fashion?

The Doubtful District in Illinois. The Baltimore Chronicle, one of the best of the political figurantes, after having once given up Stuart as defeated, figures him now as elected by a majority of two, in a district of 37,000 votes. We our [illegible] figured till we saw only official returns could settle the question, and then we took to guessing, which is all any body can do with safety. [N. Y. Express.

M. Van Buren "Like a little statue set on a great base, he appears less by his elevation."

DR. I. FRANCIS' OCCULUS AQUA,

OR Specific for Diseases of the Human Eyes. In presenting to the afflicted Dr. Francis' celebrated Occulus Aqua, the Proprietor is conscientiously actuated by a sense of duty, and a feeling which tells him he will be the means of alleviating the sufferings of his fellow creatures.

This remedy is known—has been tried, and has succeeded, in cases where hope had fled, and where perpetual loss of vision was rapidly acting in! It has succeeded in cases where the Faculty of Medicine had declared the sufferer to be incurable. See Certificates.

The sole object of Proprietor in thus openly and candidly placing his remedy before the community, is that it may be to all such that it may prove a balm of ... to the desponding and afflicted.

Francis' Occulus Aqua is adapted to all inflammatory diseases of the Eyes, even when in their ... chronic stages, it is adapted to all kinds of nervous affections, inability to use the eyes ... the sight, opthalmias, &c. It will also remove, by a judicious course, those nebulous, milky, dead, cloudy appearances, frequently known by the name of "cataracts."—Finally, all ... and the countless diseases with which the organs of vision are attacked, should invariably be treated by this inestimable remedy.

The Specific is put up in bottles, with complete directions for use. Advice is cheerfully given free of charge, at the Proprietor's house, where alone ... in the city of N. York.

Professional hours from 7 to 11, A. M. and from 2 to 5 P. M., 10 Barkley-street, June 12, 1838.

P. S. It has been thought advisable to annex a few certificates from Gentlemen, whose station in life, respectability, piety, and acknowledged worth are sufficient vouchers for the accuracy of their statements. To make any comments on them would be ... the judgement of the reader, and the unblemished honor of the authors.

From the Rev. Mr. Davies, Pastor of the church at Bridgeville, N. Y. "This is to certify that a gentleman with whom I am acquainted, who had been nearly blind for eight years, after expending several hundred dollars on various remedies, with a view to relieve himself, was at length prevailed on to try one bottle of Dr. Francis' remedy. To the astonishment and gratification of his friends, after using it, though a martyr for many years in this distressing malady, he recovered his eye sight and speedily did he improve in health till he recovered his perfect vision!

Another case was that of a poor man who spending nine months in the Eye Infirmary, was discharged by the physician of the Institution, with what they ... an incurable cataract on one eye, so that he was nearly blind. A trial of Dr. Francis' remedy, however, (three bottles only being used by him) removed it, to the surprise of all who knew him and now he can see with that eye as well as he ever did. I feel it my duty to give this information for the benefit of the public."

The Rev. J. Harrison, 41 Thompson street, having procured a bottle of the above for Mrs. Harrison's eyes, says, "to his astonishment it has removed the dimness and pain which had been excessive for years; she had used many different eye waters, but they all failed. Therefore I hope the public will appreciate its value.

JOSEPH HARRISON."

Mrs. M'Caffrey, No 2 James street, widow of the late Dr. M'Caffrey, having used Dr. Francis' eye water, says, "I am happy to state it had the desired effect, and I can truly say saved me from absolute blindness, and I hope the public will soon know its value."

The Rev. Mr. Dunbar says "From the testimony of those who have used the eye water prepared by Dr. J. Francis, I have no hesitation in recommending it to the special notice of the public."

DUNCAN DUNBAR,
Pastor of the McDougal st church.

The Improved Enamelled EYES, inserted by Dr. Isaac Francis, cannot be distinguished from the natural, and will perform every motion of that organ without giving the slightest pain.

DR. BRANDRETH'S GENUINE PILLS.

"Disease, [illegible] Sangrado's Axes. [illegible] Lives in the world, to kill, to kill!"

THIS system does indeed live still, and is practised by the very men who laugh at Doctor Sangrado as a visionary fool. The [illegible] Faculty!! Let this truth be impressed upon every mind that all pain and weakness proceed from the presence of morbid, stagnant and corrupt humors IN THE BODY by which the circulation of the blood is impeded, and that the only sensible method to remove them from the stomach & bowels. Then take

Brandreth's Pills, concocted forth
From the pure products of the earth;
They own no after sad alloy,
They often save, but never destroy!

BLEEDING ALWAYS IMPROPER.

"For the life of the flesh is in the blood," Leviticus chapter xvii, v. 11. When the properties of BRANDRETH'S VEGETABLE UNIVERSAL PILLS shall have been appreciated, bleeding will no longer be thought of as a remedy for diseases, for in violent inflammations, eight or ten of them will take, in the course of two or three hours, more of the impure humors from the body, by the stomach and bowels, than bleeding to the extent of forty ounces could possibly have done, and it should be remembered that the Pills remove ONLY those parts from the blood which were the cause of inflammation; whereas bleeding removes the essential parts also. How great the prostration of all the corporeal powers after a copious bleeding! On the contrary, what agility and strength is felt after a dose of this medicine; the body is indeed lightened of a load. Nothing is equal to ridding the vitiated humors with a vegetable medicine of this kind which 84 years have proved never to do injury, but always good. Is the pulse too high? A dose of these Pills will bring it down. Is it too low? the same means will increase it. [illegible] Is it tremulous, showing nervous excitement? the Pills by soothing the system will allay it.

Thousands of the most respectable citizens of the United States will be referred to with pleasure by Dr. B. who have for many years been in the habit of being bled as often as four times in a year, and whose constitutions in consequence, were becoming weaker and weaker, but who, since they have made use of these Pills, have never lost a drop of their precious blood. When any of their old symptoms appeared, instead of sending to a Doctor and having a vein opened, they have swallowed six or eight Pills, which soon removed the vitiated humors that were impeding the blood in its circulation. Those sensible people, simply by the use of these invaluable Pills, are increasing every day the powers both of body and mind, which, by the practice of bleeding, were both becoming dreadfully impaired.

The following cases of cure, by the use of Brandreth's Pills, alone, are submitted with respect, to the unprejudiced portion of the Boston public:

ASTHMA CURED. The following extraordinary case of Asthma, which is authenticated by seventeen respectable and well known inhabitants of Greenwich, Ct., deserves, by all persons, a careful perusal. The most prejudiced must own that evidence is on the side of these Pills, which, by the cures they are daily making show there is no necessity for any other medicine.

This is to certify that Thomas S. Brown of Greenwich, Ct., was taken with a cold, numb feeling, on the 13th of June last. He began to cough and raise phlegm and in the course of twenty-four hours about two quarts of thick white jelly was expectorated. Three physicians in Stamford, Greenwich, and Sawpits, pronounced it a nervous humid spasmodic Asthma, and after prescribing for some time to no effect, the three consulted together, and finally declared that they could do him no good; it would and must result in consumption, and death would ensue, and that in a very short time. The pain was excessive in all parts of his body, and the difficulty in breathing was such as almost to cause strangulation. He was reduced to a mere skeleton, and finally gave himself up to death. After being in this miserable state nearly two months, he saw an advertisement of Dr. Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills, and immediately sent by Capt. J. Waring of Greenwich, for a box, and found relief in the course of a few days, which encouraged him to persevere, and now having taken them for about four months according to the direction, is entirely recovered, and so far as we can judge, in consequence of taking the above Pills, which we have also used in our families, and have found them invaluable.

Signed. Greenwich, 22d Feb. 1836.

I hereby certify, that I have known Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pill for upwards of forty years they were used by my family connections, in the county of Dorset, England, since the year 1796, many of whom they cured of old standing complaints. JOSEPH GOULDEN.

[TRUE COPY.]

To Dr. Benj. Brandreth:

My dear Sir, I write a few lines to inform you that I have been making use of your Vegetable Universal Pills. I have been afflicted with a complaint supposed to be caused by PAINT. I was subject to a great coldness through my whole system, attended with frequent pain and severe cholics, for the year. I have also been subject to fits, which would seize me in the night, and when I have come to myself, I have been as weak as a child; I am ready to state the facts more particularly, and how the medicine acted upon me, at my residence, No. 17 Sudbury street, to any one who wishes to inquire.

I feel the medicine has been of very great service and that the diseases under which I labored have been by it ENTIRELY REMOVED, for which I shall ever feel grateful to Providence and to you.

Believe me to remain,
Very respectfully,
JOHN LUMMUS,
Boston, 17 Sudbury street.

THE most safe, effectual and economical remedy for diseases of the Human Constitution, that has ever been discovered.

These Pills are composed entirely of materials extracted from Medical Plants, and are warranted not to contain one particle of mercury, or any mineral substance. Dr. Kingley, the inventor of this valuable medicine, from his knowledge of the human system derived from a long and extensive practice, has arrived to the conclusion, that the great and primary cause of most diseases is a derangement in the functions of the liver; or in other words an increased or diminished secretion of the Bile.

So well is this understood, that it is common for persons to say when they feel unwell that they are bilious, meaning that they have too much bile in the stomach. On the other hand, when the flow of bile is diminished, the process of digestion is imperfectly performed, the patient becomes weak and emaciated, because nourishment contained in the food taken into the stomach is not properly extracted, and the food is ejected in a crude state. Dr. Kingley is confident that the famous Hygean Theory, so called, that "impurity of the blood is the cause of all diseases," is a great absurdity. Every one who reflects upon the subject a moment, will perceive that impurity of the blood is a secondary, not a primary complaint—the effect, and not the cause of the disease. When the functions of the liver are deranged, and the flow of bile increased, it is often taken up by the absorbent vessels and carried into the circulation, and becomes mingled with the blood as in Jaundice, when the patient shows it in his countenance. Now this impurity of the blood is caused by an increased flow of the bile, and to remedy it you must correct the secretion of the liver and restore it to a healthy state.

Dr. Kingley has spent much time in experimenting with different vegetable medicines for diseases of the liver, and now offers his Universal Family Pills as the best, most convenient and cheapest medicine that can be prepared for general use; and in offering them to the public, he is actuated more by benevolent than pecuniary motives, as the price of the medicine will show.

Dr. Kingley flatters himself that his long experimenting with vegetable medicines has enabled him to discover the true and only substitute answering all the purpose of mercurials, without any of their attendant evils. One great quality of his family Pills is, that they have the alterative principle combined with their cathartic or operative quality, so that they not only cleanse the stomach and bowels by purging, but they regulate the liver, change the morbid secretions, strengthen the digestive organs, purify the blood, invigorate the circulation, and give tone and energy to the nervous system.

They are mild and pleasant in their operation, and almost immediate conviction of their utility from the first dose. They can be taken with safety by persons of any age, and the feeble, the infirm, the nervous, the delicate, are strengthened by their operation, because they clear the system of bad humors, quiet nervous irritabilities and restlessness, from whatever source, and invariably produce sound sleep.

The Family Pills are an invariable remedy for jaundice, sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia, costiveness, sickness of the stomach, heartburn, all bilious complaints, fevers of all kinds, and if taken at the commencement will invariably check their progress, and save the patient from a protracted and dangerous sickness. They are invaluable in nervous and hypochondriacal affections, loss of appetite, and all complaints to which females alone are subject. They operate as a mild and speedy purge, and are a safe and certain remedy for worms in children.

I might publish a small volume of certificates but consider it unnecessary, as the medicine will recommend itself to all who will make trial of it.

JOHN KINGLEY.

These Pills are put up in neat boxes of two sizes; the small size contains 30 Pills, and the retail price is 25 cents, the large size contains 60 Pills, the price is 50 cents.

☞ PALMER & BLAKE have been appointed agents for the above pills for the New England States. Druggists and others can be supplied wholesale and retail, upon application to them at No. 44 Hanover street, Boston, or to J. E. LADD, Augusta, agent for the State of Maine. A VALUABLE REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

The whole of the PHIPSBURGH ESTATE, situated in Centre, Clearfield, and Cambria Counties in the State of Pennsylvania, with all the improvements thereon, is now offered for sale.

THIS Estate comprises about SEVENTY THOUSAND ACRES of LAND VERY HEAVILY TIMBERED, and in the HEART of the BITUMINOUS COAL FIELD, upon which are already established a FORGE for the manufacture of bar iron, with all the necessary appendages: An efficient and well constructed SAW MILL, a SCREW FACTORY, with improved machinery, at which wood screws of all sizes are manufactured. A ROLLING MILL, for the rolling of [illegible] and [illegible] for wire drawing, with AIR FURNACE for heating the blooms. An ANNEALING HOUSE, a BUILDING with a FURNACE and MACHINE for heading rail road screws. A PATTERN HOUSE, containing numerous patterns for casting machinery. A CUPOLA FURNACE, where the machinery of the screw factory is cast, and an extensive country business carried on. A BUILDING containing a TILT-HAMMER and SHEARS for cutting iron. A MANAGER'S HOUSE & OFFICE, and BOARDING HOUSE for workmen. A valuable GRIST MILL, worked by steam power.

Also, the PROPRIETOR'S HOUSE, beautifully situated, seventy six feet in front, with spacious piazzas front and rear, and possessing every convenience calculated for a gentleman's residence. A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIALLY BUILT BRICK HOTEL, in the town, with all the requisite out buildings. A WELL BUILT STONE HOUSE, forty two by twenty four feet, with the land adjoining. A LARGE STORE HOUSE calculated for an extensive country business. FIVE COTTAGES in the village with gardens attached. A FARM HOUSE with a spacious and well constructed Barn, Granary and out buildings, and one hundred and fifty acres of highly cultivated meadow land adjoining. The whole estate is abundantly supplied with springs of excellent water, and streams, with water power sufficient for saw mills, grist mills, forges, furnaces, &c. It is situated on the Moshannon and Clearfield Creeks, about ten miles from the river Susquehanna on the north, to which the Moshannon and Clearfield Creeks afford navigable outlets in time of freshets and about twenty five miles from the PENNSYLVANIA CANAL on the southeast, to which a highly favorable route is presented for the construction of a Rail Road to the JUNIATA DIVISION of the Pennsylvania Canal, through a portion of Huntington County, abounding in IRON ORE, of the finest quality, where a number of forges and furnaces have been long established, but which are laboring under difficulties from the WANT OF THIS COAL. A charter has been obtained for the construction of the rail road, THE LOCATION OF WHICH IS COMPLETED, and the estimates furnished, preparatory to a commencement of the work. The distance from the COAL MINES to the CANAL is only twenty eight miles.

The MAGNIFICENT TIMBER upon this estate, consists of all the varieties usually found in Pennsylvania, but the WHITE PINE, which is MORE PARTICULARLY ABUNDANT, is of the largest description, fit for MASTS, SPARS, PANNEL BOARDS, &c. and of an EXCELLENT QUALITY. The BITUMINOUS COAL is found in every hill, in veins of various thickness, viz: four feet two inches, six feet and nine feet, and there are two, three or four veins in a hill according to its elevation. The quality varies, in different situations FROM THE HIGHLY BITUMINOUS SOFT COAL, CLOSELY RESEMBLING the NEWCASTLE COAL OF ENGLAND, to a much harder and heavier Coal containing less bitumen. LIME STONE, FIRE CLAY and IRON STONE have been discovered accompanying some of the measures, and will doubtless be found to be general, upon a proper examination. A HIGHLY FAVORABLE CHARTER has been granted by the Legislature of Pennsylvania, containing MINING, MANUFACTURING and TRANSPORTING PRIVILEGES for a period of SIXTY YEARS; authorizing a company to hold this estate in a corporate capacity, and to convey to market its vast resources.

Family circumstances however, having occurred, to prevent the proprietor from individually accomplishing this important enterprise, he would be willing to sell ON LIBERAL TERMS, the whole property to a respectable company, who would carry out the provisions of the charter. To whom, of course, he would transfer all its privileges, or he would sell the estate in tracts, to suit the convenience of purchasers.

The title to this Estate is INDISPUTABLE, and the SALUBRITY of the CLIMATE is proverbial. Taking into consideration, therefore, the immense quantity of the HEAVY and VALUABLE TIMBER upon this estate, the presence of IRON ORE, the INEXHAUSTIBLE supplies of BITUMINOUS COAL, so essential in the GENERATION OF STEAM, the PRODUCTION of GAS, and for domestic purposes and the arts in general, its ADVANTAGEOUS POSITION, with regard to its communication with the SEA BOARD, its IMMEDIATE PROXIMITY to a region ABOUNDING [illegible] RICHEST IRON ORE, in which the WANT OF FUEL is already productive of serious inconvenience; considering also, the highly favorable location of the rail road, intersecting the Pennsylvania canal, and thus affording the choice of both the Eastern and Western markets, and taking into view the many HOUSES, BUILDINGS, MANUFACTURING ESTABLISHMENTS CLEARED and CULTIVATED LAND, thus enabling the enterprising company to commence their operations, without incurring the HEAVY EXPENDITURE of money, and the DELAY incident to new establishments, it is confidently believed that a rare opportunity is now presented for the SAFE and PROFITABLE investment of capital.

For further particulars, application may be made either personally or by letter, POST PAID, to Samuel Corp, Esq. New York; John C. Montgomery, Esq. Philadelphia; John Norris, Esq. Brown's Mills, Mifflin county, Penn. or to
